Important information

Porting your phone number(s) will cancel your phone service with your current provider. If you are porting your phone number(s) early, i.e. before the minimum contract period ends, you must make all related payments due to your current provider.

You must cancel all other services from your current provider yourself. Some providers consider and confirm number porting as cancellation of all related services. Contact your current provider as necessary to ensure your existing contract is cancelled in line with your wishes.
